USING THE COMPUTER TO ACCESS AND COMPLETE COURT FORMS

Thanks to the internet, there are a number of different ways you can access and complete court forms using the computer. Your computer must have Adobe Acrobat PDF Version 9 or later to utilize the feature that allows you to complete forms on your computer screen and print the completed forms.

The following web sites provide resources, forms and, in some instances, instructions for completion:

California Courts, Judicial Branch

www.courts.ca.gov

On the Judicial Branch Home page you can access forms that may be completed on-line or you may print blank forms to be completed by hand.

Some forms are required to be used by all superior courts in California. These forms include “Adopted for Mandatory Use” in the lower left corner. The site also includes “approved” or optional forms, which must be accepted by all California courts. You will see “Form Approved for Optional Use” in the lower left corner of these forms.

This site also provides links to local courts.

Ventura Superior Court

www.ventura.courts.ca.gov

On the Ventura Superior Court home page under “Forms and Filing” you will find “Local Forms,” a link to the Judicial Branch forms page, and “Form Packets.”

:Forms and Filing “ includes all of the local Ventura Superior Court forms. Some of these forms are required to be used and are marked “Mandatory.”

“Form Packets” includes the necessary state and local forms, as well as instructions, for a variety of court actions. These can be filled out online or printed for completion by hand.

On the home page under “Case Inquiry” (on the upper left side) you can find information about specific cases filed in the Ventura Superior Court. And, in the “Self-Help” section, you can find information and answers to frequently asked questions.
